MYDF Evolving History

MYDF is a newly established non-governmental organization with a primary corporate mandate of caring and supporting the most vulnerable prisoners, ex-prisoners and their needy family children through transparent project programs that aim at sound reduction of community living life taming risks, increase in the provision of these risks mitigation solutions and delivery of practical life rehabilitation support.

MYDF establishment is a merciful blessing from two visionary passionate community private women who after receiving the sudden news about two incarcerated community parents stepped out to support their remaining family children. Their contributed support to families involved paying school termly education fees for the children, donation of children learning facilitating items like books, pens, pencils, uniforms, shoes, break time food carrying containers as well as making frequent family visitations to always see how they were progressing.

It's during their routine visitation to the families and interaction with other community people that they learnt that there were many different families impacted by frequent incarcerations, and thereby discovering the need for reaching more people. Therefore, out of their small employment income earnings, they passionately decided to establish this currently standing MYDF Institution to be able to reach more suffering vulnerable people impacted by incarceration in three Uganda's central region districts: Kampala, Wakiso and Mukono, and MYDF was accorded formal corporate registration for permanent ground existence in the year 2024 to officially serve the most needy in that above stated area.

Project Establishment Main Objective

To provide a permanent stream for conception, development and implementation of solutions which aim at addressing stiff problems that challenge the daily living life of prisoners, ex-prisoners and their needy family children as well as for delivering life rehabilitating practical support.

Project Addressing Main Problem Statement

Prisoners, ex-prisoners and their family children are facing numerous stiff living life challenges that impede their common development promotion and they are lacking well established community streams for providing life improving support. Many of these prisoners, ex-prisoners and their family children always struggle with;

1. Prisoners Family Children-When parents are separated from their families through incarceration, children always miss that beautiful daily love, care, passion and support provision-this involves clothing, food, healthcare service, proper home, school fees and school education learning support equipments like books, pens, pencils, school bags, uniforms, shoes and that deep family blood connection which helps parents and children to naturally live and support each other daily.

2. Serving Prisoners-face following life teasing experiences;

Dehumanizing treatment during arrests, painful long weeks of detainment at police stations, painful long months of reprimand, Frequent premature appearances in court, forced daily work tasks execution while in prison and painful deep recurring fear experience that are crime offenders.

High teasing by fellow prisoners which at times involves beating each other, being cut-off from free daily connection with families and community friends-it's painful, frequent losing of own sweated family wealth properties through confiscation by the accusers or selling off by families in an attempt to mobilize money cash resources to hire expensive professional lawyers and to bribe the justice service system.

Lack of free crime case litigation process handling representation, and abandonment by family and community friends.

3. Ex-prisoners- Some of the challenges they face are: limited employment opportunities getting, social stigma, enticed substance abuse impacts and family marriage breaking, lack of housing facilities, lack of capital resources to help them start something for a living, mental health problems, longtime life sadness and lack of daily food provision.

Their life immediate needs are: safe housing facilities, food provision, clothing, psychiatric health care service, life skills training, employment, and a peacefully warm home welcome and acceptance from own belonging families and all us in the community well as contribution of other types of support needed.

NB. Therefore, the MYDF project establishment's main objective is to provide a permanent stream for conception, development and implementation of solutions which aim at addressing stiff problems that challenge the daily living life of prisoners, ex-prisoners and their needy family children as well as for delivering life rehabilitating practical support.

A. These Individual Groups living life Challenges and Their Immediate Needs.

Prisoners, ex-prisoners and their family children are facing numerous stiff living life challenges that impede their common development promotion and they are lacking well established community streams for providing life protection and improvement promotion support and they always struggle with;

1.Serving Prisoners-face following life teasing experiences;

Dehumanizing treatment during arrests, painful long weeks of detainment at police stations, painful long months of reprimand, Frequent premature appearances in court, forced daily work tasks execution while in prison and painful deep recurring fear experience that they are crime offenders(stigma).

High teasing by fellow prisoners which at times involves beating each other, being cut-off from free daily connection with families and community friends-it's painful, frequent losing of own sweated family wealth properties through confiscation by the accusers or selling-off by families in an attempt to mobilize money cash resources to hire expensive professional lawyers and to bribe the justice service system.

Lack of free crime case litigation process handling representation (free legal aid service), and are sometimes abandoned by own family and community friends.

Their immediate life needs are: free or subsidized legal aid, outside court case mediation, increased number of visitation days by family relatives, professional counselling, life continuity maintenance support contribution to their families, routine healthcare service, respectful treatment while in prison, skills training, prison homes routine cleaning and fumigation and routine play games organization and attendance among many others.

2. Ex-Prisoners- face following living life stiff challenges;

Some of the challenges they face are: limited employment opportunities getting, social stigma experience, enticed substance abuse impacts and family marriage breaking, lack of housing facilities, lack of capital resources to help them start something for a living, mental health problems, longtime life sadness and lack of daily food provision.

NB. Their life immediate needs are: safe housing facilities, food provision, clothing, psychiatric health care service, life skills training, employment, and a peacefully warm home welcome and acceptance from own belonging families and probably from all us in the community well as contribution of other types of support needed for their healthy daily living!

3.Prisoners’ Family Children-When parents are separated from their families through incarceration, children always miss that beautiful daily love, care, passion and support provision: clothing, food, healthcare service attention, proper home, school education fees and comfortable learning facilitating support equipments like books, pens, pencils, school bags, uniforms, shoes and that deep family blood connection which helps parents and children to naturally live and support each other daily.

Their immediate life needs: support for school education, daily food provision, clothing, proper home, healthcare service, visiting their family loved ones in prison and comfort contribution from other family relatives and community friends to rehabilitate their psychosocial living life among many other needs.

B. How the MYDF Solves The Living Life Challenges That Face Each Group Category

Each group category is having a unique set of needs and requires a unique set of solutions, and at some point, these three are also having relatively common set of needs which must be quenched through application of a separately unique set of solutions to be able to smoothly transform their common daily living life. Therefore, MYDF has developed the SLSSP-Situation Life Solving Solutions Package which provides different sets of solutions which it uses to dislodge their facing hard living life situations.

1. The SLSSP Containing Individual Main Programs and their Planned Main Activities.

1. Provision of Children School Education support.

MYDF supports individual prisoners’ family needy children through following mini programs;

A. Children at School Programme –CSP.

Through this mini program MYDF provides;

1. Yearly school education needed fees by paying it direct to the children going respective schools.
2. Children's comfortable learning facilitating free equipments like school bags, school uniform, classwork writing in books, pens and pencils, break time food carrying containers, sanitary pads for girls, geometry sets and food items donation to schools.

B. Youth At The Play Ground-YPG

MYDF supports community youth talent development through organizing youth play games: Boys football and Girls Netball in which different community youth are invited to participate. They are organized in form of game leagues in which winning teams take prizes like trophies, team wearing jasseys, play balls, cows, goats and money cash envelopes.

Nb. These games are organized during school holiday seasons and are aimed at occupying the youth and children during school holiday time to prevent them from being in daily redundance that may may give them opportunities to engage in life taming risks.

MYDF also uses the game leagues as an open platform to speak to the children and youth about real life experiences and how they can smoothly overcome them.

C. Children Visitation to Prison-CVP

To smoothly support children's comfortable living and school education learning especially for those with family parents or relatives in prison, MYDF intends to organize children visitation to prison programs particularly during school holiday time through which each child is given a beautiful opportunity to meet and interact with his/her loved one in prison. During these visitations each child is given special gifts to donate to their loved ones and this is done three times a year.

These yearly children visitation to prison programs help children and parents to freely connect which helps them to somely heal from the burdens of missing each other, and through this practice MYDF provides psychosocial support to these beautiful children and their loved ones in prison. Nb. MYDF is still making a study about how it can bestly be done before it finally launches it!

2.Prisoner's Rights Violation Prevention Advocacy

MYDF deeply understands the primary importance of protecting prisoner's human rights, freedoms and liberties therefore, it supports prisoners through following mini programs;

- A. Crime prevention awareness campaigns.
- B. Perpetrated crime case settlement mediation support.
- C. Provision of professional psychosocial support.
- D. Yearly Newsletter publication

3.Provision Of Free Legal Aid Service

MYDF deeply understands the deep pains a crime offender experiences when he commits a crime and is brought to police or before court to defend himself and more so when he has no one to advise or defend him and save him from being sentenced to prison. Therefore, MYDF will provide a motherly saving legal aid service to the most needy crime offenders through case mediation and the following is a list of crime case types which MYDF will primarily concentrate on;

1. Employment Termination.
 2. Bad Debt Crimes.
 3. Breach of Contract.
 4. Patent Rights Violation.
 5. Accidents.

NB. MYDF will only handle small scale crimes and always make referrals of large-scale cases to courts, and registration of well mediated cases with courts (Justice service system) for recognition.

4.Provision of Family Life Healthcare Improvement and Maintenance Support.

MYDF improves the life health of prisoners, ex-prisoners and their family children through following mini programs;

- E. Alcohols Taking Addiction Prevention Awareness.

MYDF is here as savior, it supports the peaceful return, resettlement and life rehabilitation of ex-prisoners, therefore it achieves this through the following mini programs;

- A. Provision of Social Stigma Prevention and Treatment.
- B. Life Skills Training.

C. Provision of Self-Employment Creation Support.

D. Crime perpetration Vices Reinvolvement Prevention Awareness Campaign.

6.Prisoner's Family Life Development Promotion Conferences Organization.

To create a wide public attention to the many problems that challenge prisoners, ex-prisoners and their needy family children's daily living life, MYDF will organize yearly development promoting conferences in which key sector players and decision makers will be invited to participate and share beautiful ideas about how these stiff challenges can smoothly be solved.

2. What the SLSSP Directly Solves?

Since each group category is having a unique set of living life challenges and interests, the listed answers are complete problems solving solution variables developed out of the group category's real life needs which rightly connects with the outlined individual strategic plan-SLSSP programs, therefore it solves these challenges as follows;

1. For Children - NB. Even though the children living life challenges and needs are very vast, MYDF intends to only concentrate on providing care and support that solves;

A. Lack Of School Education Support-MYDF will quench this acute lack by sourcing and providing termly school education needed fees and children comfortable learning facilitating equipments.

B. Lack Of Psychosocial Living Life Rehabilitation-MYDF will quench this need through organizing children visitation to prison to meet their loved ones in prison.

C. Lack Of Psychosocial Living Life Rehabilitating Comfort Contribution from The Community -MYDF Will quench this need through organizing youth talent development play games during school holiday time. These games once implemented are also aimed at occupying children and youth to prevent them from engaging in quick life taming risks/vices.

MYDF strongly believes that with the successful ground implementation of mini programs A, B and C above will effectively help to improve the living life standard of each plan targeted child beneficiary in each district community!

2.For Serving Prisoner - Because of the fact that their life facing challenges are very numerous, MYDF will focus on providing care and support that solves;

A. Lack of free legal aid service-MYDF Will provide free legal aid service to those prisoners who will have committed one or more following crime case categories;

1. Employment Termination.
2. Bad Debt Crimes.
3. Breach of Contract.
4. Patent Rights Violation.
5. Accidents.

NB. MYDF will mainly handle those crime cases through small scale professional mediation as well as referring large scale cases to courts and will always strive to register with court all its handled cases for recognition. And in some case situations there will be need to handle some cases at court level. To successfully achieve this, MYDF will have to recruit and maintain a small team of experienced professional lawyers to handle this entire program.

The suggestion of the listed crime types above is based on the premise that are crimes which are not having a vast litigation handling support service structures in Uganda currently and very few lawyers normally accept such crime cases and their offenders are very many and suffering silently in the different communities!

B. Lack Of Family Children School Education Support-MYDF will quench this acute lack by sourcing and providing termly school education needed fees and children comfortable learning facilitating equipments.

C. Absence of Routine Prison Homes Fumigation - MYDF plans to implement routine provision of professional fumigation service to the individual prison homes to treat out the different life sickening pests since these prison homes accommodate many prisoners from different community families' cleanliness backgrounds in humble supplementation of what the government and other structures are currently providing. This is aimed at improving the common health care maintenance of the prisoners' living life, and hygiene and sanitation standards of the entire prison homes.

MYDF also plans to implement this good program every after 4 months cycle in each prison found in Kampala, Wakiso and Mukono district. Therefore, this program will be collectively done only 3 times per year x 5 years=15 times. This good program will be implemented in 8 big prisons which will be identified at a later time.

D. Lack Of Organized Visitation By Their Family – MYDY intends to alleviate this prevalent problem by organizing children visitation to prison programs to meet and chat with their loved ones in prison for some reasonable little time during school holiday season. This will give an opportunity to each child to meet his long time missing loved one and conversely the one in prison, and during these trips, children will always be given special gifts to donate their loved ones in prison, and through that good plan MYDF will have provided some good psychosocial treatment to all of them commonly.

E. Lack of routine provision of professional counselling to prisoners-To quench this need, MYDF intends to make formal request of permissions from each prison to be allowed to offer professional counselling to prisoners on identified specific day schedules which primarily focuses on: 1) person behavior change. 2) recidivism avoidance and prevention awareness.3) social stigma treatment and prevention and 4) perseverance. This entire program will be handled by a team of professional psychiatrists and conducted 4 times a year meaning that 1 time in each yearly quarter period.

3.For Ex-prisoners.

NB. Because of the fact that their life challenges are many, MYDF intends to only provide solving solutions to the following few ones;

A. Social stigma illness- To solve this problem MYDF will provide social stigma illness treatment and prevention by offering self-esteem and confidence regaining professional counselling to each registered released prisoner and prisoner re-acceptance counselling to family wife and children.

B. Abandonment by family and community- To solve this problem MYDF intends to implement community ex-prisoner peaceful reintegration persuading advocacy which will involve implementing person rejection prevention awareness, and professional counselling offering. MYDF will also organize training workshops to offer sensitization and to a small-scale build community level capacities for providing continued knowledge and skills replication. Community operating groups, associations, fellow charities, district and subcounty service officers, various police station service officers and plain volunteers will be invited to participate in these planned training workshops per year.

C. Lack of life development support skills-To quench this, MYDF intends to empower the ex-prisoners in:

1. self-employment creation and will be achieved by offering training in simple to learn skills: a) metal craftsmanship. b) masonry works. c) house painting work. d) house plumbing and e) house power systems installation work. And f) catering service. NB. To be able to achieve this, MYDF will be required to establish a small skills training school within each project benefiting district.
2. Provision of self-employment creation supporting equipments according to their individual person skills specialization per sending-off of the trainees. NB. These established training centers will always offer one year course qualification and a certification of qualification will always be awarded to well qualifying students at the end of a 12 months period. These courses will be offered at a simple and affordable cost-sharing program to support students in easy payment of the termly fees, and these to be collected school incomes will be used to partially sustain the school's continued existence and smooth offering of service to yearly coming-in students in supplementation of the resources that will be contributed by the school program sponsors.

NB. More details about the development of this school program will be developed at later stage by the MYDF board of directors.

D. Limited chances of getting employment opportunities -To improve on their chances of getting and self-creating of jobs, MYDF will advise them to form small groups and start a common business project particularly those with similarly the same trained skills and then look around for some capital resources to invest in as small shareholders, and to morely support them MYDF will always be inviting other support giving charities to come and offer support.

E. Recidivism syndrome experience-To cut recidivism syndrome, MYDF will implement following solution programs;

1. Offering behavior change, perseverance, patience, persistence and looking for jobs emphasizing professional counselling.
2. Offering persuasive professional counselling to communities to re-accept their peaceful return and reintegration.
3. Recidivism prevention advocacy programs implementation.
4. Provision of living life maintaining support items for a short temporary time.
